Rave Reviews!

"The High School Money Book talks straight to teens about money. Teens learn that they can be happier and more self-sufficient if they master money matters now rather than correct money mistakes later. They learn how to make important decisions about working, shopping, using credit, preparing for college, making a budget, keeping financial records, and making money grow by saving and investing." -- JumpStart Coalition

"Great book to teach teens about money. It goes one step further than other books. It teaches kids to really think about money and how it affects their lives." -- Alan Lavine and Gail Liberman, syndicated columnists and authors of Quick Steps to Financial Stability

"Everything in the High School Money Book by Don Silver is useful and well organized. It is also incredibly clear and presented in the most useful way that I can imagine." -- M. Arthur, educator and parent of a teenager
